

System Architecture

Our program aims to classify users by the quality of their feeds given a particular hashtag

The Feeds Analyzer aggregates the data from the Feeds Storage by user and computes its quality. Then updates the User Storage with the new profile for this user.

The User API is used to query the users that have the feeds with the best quality given a particular hashtag.